SIXTY-THREE MARRIAGE PERMITS OUT

Sixty-three Marriage Licenses Have Been Issued Since First of Year

BEHIND LAST YEAR

Marriage licenses seem to be on a decline in Burleigh county according to reports issued today from the county judge's office. From Jan. 1, 1922 until September 1, 1923 sixty-seven marriage licenses were issued while over the same period of time in 1922 only sixty-three licenses were issued. While these figures would seem to indicate a decline in marriages as the prospects for the year, Miss Ramp of the county judge's office said that a prospective increase in the remaining months of the year would in all probability bring the year's total up equal to that of last year.

October and November are the heaviest months of the year as far as the issuance of marriage licenses are concerned, said Miss Ramp, and although she would vouch no knowledge as to why these months should be the best she pointed to figures to prove her point. In January 1923 there were no marriage licenses issued until the twenty-third of the month.

MACON MAN IS WHIPPING BOSS?

Klan Witnesses Charge Dr. Mills, a Chiropodist, With Flogging

Macon Ga., Sept. 13.—Evidence intended to show that Dr. C. A. Yarbrough, on trial in city court on the charge of rioting in connection with the whipping of R. F. Mills, a chiropodist, had knowledge of letters written by persons seeking to have other persons punished for various offenses featured yesterday's session of the trial.

In one instance a state witness, an employee in Dr. Yarbrough's office, told of reading a letter in which a mother a day or two before her son was flogged, expressed a wish that something could be done to her son.

Employees of the Ku Klux Klan also testified regarding letters and other matters designed to connect Dr. Yarbrough, who has been called the "whipping boss" of Macon, with the series of floggings that have been going on in Macon and Bibb county for approximately two years and which for several weeks had the city and county in a turmoil. It also was charged during the day's testimony that J. P. Durkee organizer of the Ku Klux Klan in Macon, visited the prosecuting witness in the case and pretended that he was an officer and Governor Thomas W. Hardwick to aid in running down the men that had flogged Mills.

Destruction of Fishing Pueblo Still Rumor

Mexicali, Lower Calif., Sept. 13.—Additional information of the destruction by tidal waves Tuesday of San Jose Decabo, a fishing pueblo at the southern most end of the peninsula of lower California as reported in wireless messages received by officials of the federal government and navigation companies here yesterday was lacking early today.

The town, located on the Pacific side of Cape San Lucas, had a population of about 500, and officials here expressed the belief that most of them, if not all, had escaped to high ground.

WIRELESS REPORT

Mexicali Lower Cal., Sept. 13.—Wireless messages received here report the destruction by a tidal wave of San Jose Decabo, a small fishing town on the west coast of Lower California; just above Cape San Lucas. The number of lives lost is not known.

Most of the 600 inhabitants of the town are believed to have escaped to higher ground when the tidal wave swept over that place, according to radio advices sent out by a steamer which cleared Cape Lucas shortly before the catastrophe.

Steamers carrying merchandise to Guaymas, which had cleared the cape in time to escape destruction or damage in the wave, have been ordered to return to San Jose Decabo for relief work, the message stated. One of these vessels, it was stated, carried 300 laborers for the cotton fields near here.

LEGION VETS ATTEND ALLIED FEDERATION

Meet Overseas in Some Definite Expression For World Peace

By NEA Service

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 12.—Delegates of the American Legion have left here to join with representatives of allied veterans overseas in some definite expression for world peace. The occasion is the annual convention of the International Veterans' Federation, which meets in Brussels, Belgium, this month. Officially, it is the Federation Internationale des Anciens Combattants, which is more popularly referred to as the Fida. It is an alliance of former soldier organizations in France, Great Britain, Italy, Belgium, Roumania, Serbia, Czechoslovakia and the United States.

The Americans are prepared to assume an important part in the development of a program for cessation of war. Their chief proposal will be for an international conference for limitation of armament and building program of disarmament. The conference for such conference follows the general line of the 1921 "Washington Conference," on naval limitation.

National Commander Alvir Owsley has declared that the nations of the world are now engaged in a race to see which shall become master of the air, and that limitation of aircraft building programs must follow if world peace is to come.

The convention is expected to repeat the manifesto issued by the Fida last year at New Orleans calling for the establishment of a world court to end all international disputes by arbitration. The program further seeks cessation of all trade relations with nations which maintain armies for aggressive purposes, and declares against territorial aggrandizement.

The American delegation is headed by Commander Owsley, who will give particular attention to the relief problems of allied nations in the effort to rehabilitate disabled fighters. With him will be Chairman H. Nelson Jackson of the legion committee and vice president of the international federation; Brigadier General Roy Hoffman of Oklahoma City; Brigadier General L. R. G. Thompson, Amarillo, Tex.; H. E. Thompson, Des Moines, Ia.; R. E. Condon, New York; Arthur W. Kipling and E. MANDAN LETS CONTRACT FOR STREET PAVING

Work Begins on Bismarck-Mandan Road at Once

Mandan, Sept. 13.—Contracts were awarded last night by a unanimous vote to Woodrich Construction company of Minneapolis, Minn., for the paving of about 67 blocks of Mandan streets and avenues with Portland cement.

The work will start immediately on East Main which is a part of the Mandan-Bismarck highway and will be completed this fall, the balance will not be ready before next spring.

There was vigorous competition by Warren Brothers company, owners of the bitulithic process paving, and Steve Burch of Fargo low bidder on that material against the bidders for cement paving.

During the last week one of the property owners who was most active in opposing the paving project, apparently convinced that all legal steps to block the paving had been taken, and that the contractors would be awarded, circulated petitions seeking to have bitulithic chosen as the material. Other property owners are opposing the paving project on the ground that cement paving has been found acceptable generally, and that the government is using concrete on most of its hard surface federal aid roadbuilding.

Whether more than one petition will be presented to the commission this evening is unknown. Members of the commission have refrained from expressing their personal opinion on paving material.

Minneapolis, Sept. 13.—With prospects of a curtailed supply of anthracite coal to consumers in the northwest the U. S. Bureau of Mines has advised the development of native fuel supplies and the use of lignite in lignite areas.

In a letter received today by Stanley Washburn, president of the Lignite Coal Operators Association of North Dakota, O. P. REBELLION BREAKS OUT IN BARCELONA

State of Siege Has Been Declared by Military Authorities

ARMY OFFICERS REVOLT

Captain General Declares on Own Responsibility State of Siege

Barcelona, Sept. 13.—The main telephone exchange here was occupied today by a band of men understood to be headed by Capt. General Primo, Rivera, it is believed that the movement will signalize an outbreak in other of the chief towns in Spain. Grave rumors were circulating in Madrid last night and the government held a hastily called meeting.

TAKE POSSESSION OF CITY

Barcelona, Sept. 13.—The state of siege was proclaimed here at 11:15 this morning, and the Catalan military authorities took possession of power in the city.

It is stated here that several garrisons, notably those in Madrid, Saragossa, Seville, have adhered to the military movement which now must be recognized as a regular troupe. The normal life of Barcelona is proceeding.

ARMY OFFICERS REVOLT

Madrid, Sept. 13.—Army officers at Barcelona have revolted and martial law has been declared. The rank and file of the army has joined the revolt but the navy personnel is quiet.

CALL CABINET MEETING

Madrid, Sept. 13.—After a cabinet meeting today the following statement was issued:

"The captain general of Barcelona proclaimed last night on his own responsibility a state of siege in that district, altered communications and invited other districts to support his action."

In order to explain this he published a manifesto declaring that the army called upon the sovereign to save Spain and asking for dismissal of the present minister.

In certain districts it appears the military forces are disposed to concur in this attitude of rebellion.

IN PERMANENT SESSION

Madrid, Sept. 13.—The cabinet is in permanent session and will maintain its position which it will abandon only under force should the promoters decide to follow up its policy with all the consequences.

King Alfonso returned to Madrid today. The station was surrounded by troops and every precaution taken to keep unauthorized persons away. Conditions in Madrid present a normal aspect.

The revolt in Spain centers in that hot bed of Spanish agitation, the district of Barcelona. This has long been the scene of Carlist conspiracy and revolt seeking to restore the Carlist dynasty line. It is also the center of separatist movement which seeks to make the great commercial area around Barcelona a separate state of southern Spain, detached from Madrid, as the center of northern Spain.

Catalonia also has been the main rendezvous for the extreme agitational elements, including Spanish anarchists, and so called modernists. It is noticeable that the dispatches from the present movement is not dynamic as the manifesto issued by Capt. General Primo Rivera is directed against "professional politicians for seizing the power and annihilating the will of the king."

ARMY REMAINS LOYAL

Madrid, Sept. 13.—The army as a whole, it is declared, remains loyal to the government which expresses confidence in its ability to stamp out the revolt movement.

APPEALS TO CAPTAIN GENERAL

Madrid, Sept. 13.—(By the Associated Press)—The government this afternoon telegraphed Capt. General Primo Rivera at Barcelona, considered to be the leading spirit in the revolt movement appealing to his patriotism and asking him to abandon "his attitude of rebellion."

The Captain General replied with an unqualified denial. The government thereupon declared his denunciation as military governor of Barcelona.

Fargo Budget Is Passed By Commissioners

Despite the fact that a delegation of Fargo taxpayers appeared before the city commission urging the elimination of certain items in the 1923-24 budget the ordinance providing for the appropriations and levy, was passed on its second reading without change, at the meeting of the commission today.

Commissioners Bruce, Hanson and Gentry voted for the ordinance as passed. Commissioners Hogan and Jordan voted no because of items against which they protested.

The total amount appropriated is $352,003. The amount levied is $275,003. The difference is made up by a reappropriation of $75,000 from unexpended funds from last year.

L. B. Hanna, Judge N. C. Young, Henry Busch and John Martin asked that the item of $5,000 for a site for the county hospital, $15,500 for a new pump for the fire department and $6,000 for a new tractor, be eliminated from the budget and that the $10,000 for the city library be reduced to $7,000, the same as last year.

MANDAN LETS CONTRACT FOR STREET PAVING

Work Begins on Bismarck-Mandan Road at Once

Mandan, Sept. 13.—Contracts were awarded last night by a unanimous vote to Woodrich Construction company of Minneapolis, Minn., for the paving of about 57 blocks of Mandan streets and avenues with Portland cement.

The work will start immediately on East Main which is a part of the Mandan-Bismarck highway and will be completed this fall, the balance will not be ready before next spring.

There was vigorous competition by Warren Brothers company, owners of the bitulithic process paving, and Steve Burch of Fargo low bidder on that material against the bidders for cement paving.

During the last week one of the property owners who was most active in opposing the paving project, apparently convinced that all legal steps to block the paving had been taken, and that the contracts would be awarded, circulated petitions seeking to have bitulithic chosen as the material. Other property owners are opposing the patent process paving on the ground that concrete has been found acceptable generally, and that the government is using concrete on most of its hard surface federal road building.

Whether more than one petition will be presented to the commission this evening is unknown. Members of the commission have refrained from expressing their personal opinion on paving material.

Minneapolis, Sept. 13.—With prospects of a curtailed supply of anthracite coal to consumers in the northwest the U. S. Bureau of Mines has advised the development of nearby fuel supplies and the use of lignite in lignite areas.

In a letter received today by Stanley Washburn, president of the Lignite Coal Operators Association of North Dakota, O. P. Hood, chief mechanical engineer of the Bureau of Mines at Washington stated that "it is very much to the advantage of a community to develop a nearby supply of fuel and as a national conservation movement long hauls from distant fields are to be discouraged."

REBELLION BREAKS OUT IN BARCELONA

State of Siege Has Been Declared by Military Authorities

ARMY OFFICERS REVOLT

Captain General Declares on Own Responsibility State of Siege

Barcelona, Sept. 13.—The main telephone exchange here was occupied today by a band of men understood to be headed by Capt. General Primo, Rivera, it is believed that the movement will signalize an outbreak in other of the chief towns in Spain. Grave rumors were circulating in Madrid last night and the government held a hastily called meeting.

TAKE POSSESSION OF CITY

Barcelona, Sept. 13.—The state of siege was proclaimed here at 11:15 this morning, and the Catalan military authorities took possession of power in the city.

It is stated here that several garrisons, notably those in Madrid, Saragossa, Seville, have adhered to the military movement which now must be recognized as a regular troupe. The normal life of Barcelona is proceeding.

ARMY OFFICERS REVOLT

Madrid, Sept. 13.—Army officers at Barcelona have revolted and martial law has been declared. The rank and file of the army has joined the revolt but the navy personnel is quiet.

CALL CABINET MEETING

Madrid, Sept. 13.—After a cabinet meeting today the following statement was issued:

"The captain general of Barcelona proclaimed last night on his own responsibility a state of siege in that district, election communication away, and invited other districts to support his action."

In order to explain this he published a manifesto declaring that the army called upon the sovereign to save Spain and asking for dismissal of the present minister.

In certain districts it appears the military forces are disposed to concur in this attitude of rebellion.

IN PERMANENT SESSION

Madrid, Sept. 13.—The cabinet is in permanent session and will maintain its position which will abandon only under force should the promoters decide to follow up its policy with all its consequences.

King Alfonso returned to Madrid today. The station was surrounded by troops and every precaution taken to keep unauthorized persons away. Conditions in Madrid present a normal aspect.

The revolt in Spain centers in that hot bed of Spanish agitation, the district of Barcelona. This has long been the scene of Carlist conspiracy and revolt seeking to restore the Carlist dynasty. It is also the center of separatist movement which seeks to make the great commercial area around Barcelona a separate state of southern Spain, detached from Madrid, as the center of northern Spain.

Catalonia also has been the main rendezvous for the extreme agitator elements including Spanish anarchists, and so called modernist. It is noticeable from the dispatches that the present movement is not dynastic as the manifesto issued by Capt. General Primo Rivera is directed against "professional politicians for seizing the power and annihilating the will of the king."

Fargo Budget Is Passed By Commissioners

Despite the fact that a delegation of Fargo taxpayers appeared before the city commission urging the elimination of certain items in the 1924-25 budget the ordinance providing for the appropriations and levy was passed on its second reading without change, at the meeting of the commission today.

Commissioners Bruce, Hanson and Geary voted for the ordinance as presented. Commissioner Hogan and Jordan voted no because of items against which they protested.

The total amount appropriated is $353,003. The amount levied is $275,003. The difference is made up by a reapportionment of $78,000 from unexpended funds from last year.

L. B. Hanna, Judge N. C. Young, Henry Busch and John Martin asked that the item of $5,000 for a site for the county hospital, $12,500 for a new pumper for the fire department and $6,000 for a new tractor, be eliminated from the budget and that the $20,000 for the city library be reduced to $7,000, the same as last year.

GERMANS WILL GIVE LEIN ON PRIVATE LAND

These Guarantees Are Capable of Solving Question Says Chancellor

WILL HALT RESISTANCE

French Look With Favor Upon German Offer, But Say Little

Berlin, Sept. 13.—Germany is prepared to enlist private property in industry, commerce, finance, and agriculture as a pledge for the payment of her reparation obligation if she is assured that the Ruhr and Rhineland is restored, Chancellor Stresemann told editors yesterday.

"These guarantees," he said "are capable of solving the question of passive resistance providing that assurance is given us, that on the basis of such an understanding the Ruhr will be evacuated and the Rhineland is restored to its former rights."

He admitted that passive resistance did not offer a solution of the Ruhr.

MEETS WITH DISFAVOR

Paris, Sept. 13.—Chancellor Stresemann answer to Premier Poincare's speech in the Chamber of Deputies, in which he expressed his opinion here, although in the absence of a fuller report extended comment is reserved.

Le Matin, generally understood today to be close to Poincare considers that the German chancellor has taken a step forward without, however, succeeding in ridding himself of the false idea that an application of his scheme of mortgages on private property would be sufficient justify evacuation of the Ruhr.

FIRPO ARRIVES IN NEW YORK FOR FIGHT

Puts Up With Friends While Dempsey Stops at Hotel Belmont

New York, Sept. 13.—Louis A. Firpo woke up in New York in 20 minutes ride of the ring in the Polo Grounds, where tomorrow evening he will attempt to take from Jack Dempsey the heavyweight championship of the world.

Dempsey will put up in Hotel Belmont for his one night, while Firpo is staying with friends in an uptown apartment.

The ticket sale which Rickard estimates will be $1,300,000 will be all over before the gates are open Friday evening if the promoter's guess is right.

Fight fans began pouring into the city and hotels were gradually filled with people whose talk was all of the bout. While fans were chasing tickets, police were chasing ticket speculators who are said to be selling their pasteboards for as much as $125.

BISMARCK HAS FIRST FROST

Was Not Sufficient to Injure Crops or Garden Vegetables

Bismarck had its first light frost of the season last night. This is not unusual, according to O. W. Roberts, meteorologist at the United States Weather Bureau, for during the middle or latter part of September a cold spell passes over the state lasting into the first of October when warmer weather follows.

While it frosted last night, gardens and crops were not injured, it being but 34 degrees above. A number of other points in North Dakota had light frosts as they did not before last. The first killing frost visited Bismarck, Oct. 8, last year, and the first light snow came Oct. 13, followed by an inch of snow three days later.

FROST GENERAL

St. Paul, Sept. 13.—Frost expected to begin the long cold season of the northwest states, were general throughout Minnesota and North and South Dakota.

FREEIES IN FORKS

Grand Forks, Sept. 13.—With a minimum temperature here last night of 23 degrees practically all garden stuff except in protected places was frozen as were also scattered late corn and flax crops that remained to be cut. Although about four inches of ice formed in some instances the potato crop which is mostly still in the ground is not believed by local gardeners to have been injured.

ROTARY PAYS TRIBUTE TO LAFAYETTE

George Shafer, Attorney General, Gives Sketch of Life at Luncheon

Rotarians honored the birthday of Lafayette at the weekly luncheon today. Attorney George Shafer gave a most interesting sketch of his life and character stressing his constantcy to high ideals and the great sacrifices he made in behalf of American independence.

Some of the historical side-lights upon this interesting figure were related in a most entertaining style and a vote of thanks was accorded Mr. Shafer for his scholarly address.

T. R. Atkinson qualified as a grandfather. While the Volstead act militated against the New England custom of setting the hair and the baby's head through application and positions of rum, the more prosaic but within the law procedure of passing the "seegers" was resorted to.

An invitation was received and accepted from the Mandan Rotary club to be their guests at 15 Mandan time, Wednesday, Sept. 25.

"Nessle told of his trip into Canada, Montana, Idaho, Washington and other parts of the far west. He declared that in Washington they knew how to grow wheat as he inspected fields that went 55 bushels to the acre.

He spoke of an interesting visit to the Hudson Bay company's store at Vancouver. Everywhere in Canada he said the late President Harding had made a profound impression largely because of his kindly nature and utter lack of ostentation.

In the charter of the Hudson Bay company was a clause dating back to the regime of Charles II that when royalty visited Canada the company was to entertain them and present them with a fitting gift. The spirit of this clause was invoked, he said, when President Harding, Mrs. Harding visited Canada. This company extended every courtesy and presented Mrs. Harding with a beautiful fur.

Judge Nussle attended a Rotary meeting at Spokane, Wash., which was a memorial meeting for the late president.

A message was received from Frank Murphy who attended a Rotary meeting at the Los Angeles, Cal.

Supt. Savvik presided at the meeting as a member of the September program committee.

The birthdays of O. N. Dunham and George Humphreys were fittingly celebrated. J. L. Bell presented Mr. Dunham with a gift and Ted Quasrud did the honors for George Humphreys.

Guests of honor were: Gov. E. A. Nestos, A. M. Dahmann, Fargo; E. Dret, Fargo; Geo. F. Shafer, Homer; Banta, East Moline, Ill.

CHEVROLET DROPS TO LOWER PRICE

Building New Factories to Increase Production and Distribution

The substantial reduction in Chevrolet prices announced September 1st caused a great surprise in the automobile world in view of the common opinion that good grounds existed for expecting higher prices. Corwin Motor Co., local Chevrolet dealers, state that they had no intimation that a reduction was coming as they knew that for more than six months the Chevrolet Motor Company has been unable to fill half the volume of orders received. Three new assembly plants at Janesville, Wis., Buffalo, N. Y., and Cincinnati, Ohio, and six new body plants adjoining assembly plants are rapidly building up production so that it is believed the company will shortly be in position to fill a much larger proportion of its orders, as it is the fixed policy of the Chevrolet Motor Company to price its product as low as production costs permit. The greatly increased production now possible with seven assembly and six body plants and four parts plants insures construction and overhead savings reflected in the new list prices and which constitute an important step towards still more economical transportation. Following are comparisons of the old and new prices:

Old List Price	New List Price
Superior Commercial Chassis	$435
Superior Light Delivery	510
Superior Roadster	510
Superior Touring	525
Superior Utility Coupe	580
Superior Sedan	590
Utility Express Truck	575

All prices are f.o.b. Flint, Michigan. There is no change in models.

NEW FEATURES IN CADILLAC MADE PUBLIC

Some Improvements in Engineering Principle Will Be Announced Soon

Following the most successful year in its history, coupled with the most satisfactory car it has yet produced, the Cadillac Motor Car company has announced a new type, the V-63, continuing the V-eight principle and embodying more fundamental improvements than any of its previous eight cylinder cars, according to the Lahar Motor Sales Company.

Inquiries resulting from current rumors to the effect that the Cadillac Motor Car Company is in possession of a new engineering principle in automotive engine design are substantiated by a high official of the Cadillac organization, who states that an important announcement will be made by the company within a few days.

In substance, the announcement authorized by H. H. Rice, Cadillac president and general manager, is as follows:

As the culmination of nine years production of cars equipped with 60-degree, V-eight engines, the Cadillac Motor Car company announces a new type, the V-63, embodying the fundamental perfection of the V-type, eight cylinder engine, inherently balanced, and with major parts improved; a system of four-wheel brakes developed and perfected by Cadillac engineers; a frame made even more rigid; a front axle completely redesigned and improved; bodies further refined, more spacious and unsurpassed for quality and appearance even in the costliest of custom coach work; and many other improvements.

The new engine marks the practical accomplishment of an engineering feat long considered "impossible" by automotive engineers—the inherent balancing of the reciprocating parts of the V-type, eight-cylinder engine. With this inherent balance, the V-63 retains and combines all of the obvious and admitted advantages of the short, rigid crankshaft and crankcase, giving maximum rigidity in the engine structure and economy of chassis space, coupled with hitherto unknown smoothness of operation.

The V-63 engine, with its radical forward steps, has the benefit of the usual conservative Cadillac policy. It is the outgrowth of nine years of persistent effort in developing one definite principle of engine design, and comes particularly as the result of more than two years of exhaustive research and experimentation by Cadillac and General Motors Research Corporation engineers.

Compensators, or counterweights, are used; and these, in combination with the new arrangement of crankshaft throws, cause the whole assembly—crankshaft, connecting rods and pistons—to operate with the smoothness of a balanced flywheel.

Four Wheel Brakes

A Cadillac system of four-wheel brakes has been developed primarily for the purpose of giving greater safety. It has been installed after a most careful study of the subject both at home and abroad, and includes many new features. Simplicity of design, effectiveness under all conditions, and a need for adjustment much less frequent than in a two-wheel brake system have been the chief attained.

The 132-inch wheelbase is continued and the designers have succeeded

EXPECT GREAT THINGS!

Approach your first drive in the new V-63 Cadillac with great expectations. Let the things which you expect from this car exceed anything which you have previously experienced.

Expect first of all a smoothness of performance that heretofore you have regarded as an ideal rather than an attainable reality.

For such is the major contribution of the new Cadillac V-Type 90° eight-cylinder engine—balanced even more accurately, and perfectly compensated to harmonize with every power impulse.

Expect an even greater degree of driving safety than that for which Cadillac has always been praised.

For Cadillac four-wheel brakes, perfected by Cadillac engineers after long and exhaustive research, provide such added safety.

Expect even deeper admiration from your friends—admiration which must inevitably result from the greater beauty, harmony and artistry of the new V-63 body designs.

For in body styles also, Cadillac has advanced its own superb standards.

Expect all of these things and more. Expect great power, speed and flexibility—greater luxury, ease and comfort.

Abundantly, indeed, will these great expectations be realized in the new V-63 Cadillac.

CORN CROP TO BRING FARMER GOOD SEED

Best Way to Select Seed Is to Hand Pick in Early Fall, Says Walster

GETS MATURED EARS

Assures Seed Corn with Vitality in Kernels and Germinating Qualities

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 13.—The excellent corn crop in North Dakota this year will assure the farmer a chance to pick good seed corn for his own farms, according to H. L. Walster, agronomist at the North Agricultural college.

"Every field in the state is full of good seed corn," said Dr. Walster, "and the farmer is fortunate in being able to secure good seed for next year's crop with no expense than the time it takes to pick it."

"The first step toward success in growing corn is the selection of the seed, and the cheapest and best way to secure good seed which is adaptable to North Dakota conditions is to pick what is in the fields of the state rather than to send elsewhere and run the chance of getting seed that is not adaptable to this climate."

The best way to select seed corn, in the opinion of Mr. Walster, is to fall. The objection to selecting after hand pick in the field in the early fall of the ears have reached maturity is that there is no way by which one can tell the earlier ears from the late maturing ones. By picking fairly early in the fall a farmer can be sure that he is getting only early maturing ears and is insuring his next season's crop from the danger of frost.

If seed selection is done from the shock, wagon or crib, one will naturally select the largest ears. Mere size, however, is not sure indication of superiority. Such an ear may have developed from a hill that was especially favored as to sunlight and food. Experiments under actual field conditions have shown that hill selected seed has produced considerably more than where it was selected from the shock, wagon, or crib even though it came from the same field. These same cribs were superior in size and appearance yet they were out-yielded by the field selected corn.

In selecting seed corn from the crib the danger, according to Mr. Walster, lies in the probability of picking many ears on which there are kernels that lack vigor and vitality. Seed corn that has been field picked and well stored will retain the vitality of the kernels and assure a higher percentage of germination.

Jos. Hess Accepts Park Board Position

Joseph P. Hess, president of the First National Bank who was preferred appointment to membership on the city park commission to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Gertrude Ritchey today agreed to accept the appointment and lend his assistance in straightening out the affairs of the commission since the failure of the dam project.

G. A. Renden who had been elected to the position by the board, declined the position.

Members of the 1923 football team of Mandan this year are expected to have to rely upon their speed rather than weight for victories, declared Coach Roy Reis who had had the squads out several times for workouts. There were 35 out for places.

Gabes scheduled are Dickinson at Mandan, Oct. 6; Bismarck at Mandan, Oct. 13; at Bismarck Oct. 27. Dates are being considered with Minot and Jamestown but no final agreement has been made with either team.

Fred W. Mottis, member of the Mandan Holstein Breeders' circuit, and pioneer dairy farmer of the district, has just purchased and received from the Pabst farms at Oconomowoc, Wis., a bull calf, pure bred Holstein that has an enviable pedigree and registration. The animal is the offspring of the famous Holstein bull "Greator" owned by the Pabst farms and winner of blue ribbons at a dozen state and national fairs. The sister of the mother of the local dairy man's purchase sold for $20,000 a year ago.

Dorothy, 5 weeks' old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Messmer died yesterday morning at 3 o'clock at the family residence. Infantile complications were the cause of her death.

The marriage of Miss Pauline Hoffman of Glendive, formerly of Mandan to Howard Hogue of Dickinson took place Aug. 5. They will make their home in Dickinson where Mr. Hogue is a Northern Pacific brakeman.

Congressman Is Stricken With Heart Trouble

Washington, Sept. 13.—Representative Martin B. Madden of Chicago, chairman of the house committee on appropriations, and one of the Republican leaders in congress, is seriously ill at his home here from a heart attack.

Apparently in robust health, Mr. Madden was stricken without warning recently while riding to his office in an automobile. He was hurried to his home, where physicians who were summoned found him in a serious condition. At a consultation no change for the worse was noted and the doctors said they expected the climax of his illness to be reached soon.

Mr. Madden, who is 68 years old, is one of the oldest members of the house in point of continuous service having entered congress 13 years ago and served continuously since then. He was reelected last November and only recently returned from a trip to Europe.

Since his return to Washington, he has worked long hours at his desk in the capitol preparing for the annual fight over appropriations which must be paid by the next congress. In connection with this work, he has devoted a great deal of time to the question of tax reduction, having prepared a plan for automatic lowering of rates whenever the treasury shows a surplus.

VOCATIONAL MEN ARE HIGH AT MONTANA U
Of Seventy Men There Fifteen Are on University Honor Roll

During the spring quarter of 1922 there were seventy disabled veterans pursuing vocational training courses at the University of Montana, under the supervision of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau.

The university authorities have just finished tabulating the records of all students in residence during that quarter, and it appears that this group of trainees acquitted themselves very creditably. They made an average of 18.81 grade points as compared with 18.66 grade points made by the fraternity men who constitute the next largest group in the university.

The average standing of all men in the university was 17.02 grade points so these vocational men fell only one and two-tenths grade points below the university average. This is an excellent average when all the facts are taken into consideration, namely, that most of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau trainees have been out of school for years and had grown unaccustomed to habits of study; that many of them lacked the full number of credits for entrance and were obliged to do extra work to make up the deficiencies which in some cases amount to two years of high school work; that they are severely disabled and have constantly to contend against their physical condition.

Besides their regular work many of these vocational men have distinguished themselves in such university activities as athletics, oratory, musical editorial and class affairs, showing talent and initiative, and a good quality of leadership. A number of them have also been elected to membership in fraternities and honorary societies which honors are bestowed only upon selected men.

Five of the seventy men won places on the honor roll of the university because of their superior work.

WAR VETERANS FORM NEW PARTNERSHIP
Montana Disabled Veterans Use Vocational Training in Business

Livingston, Mont., Sept. 12.—Livingston, Mont., hosts a battery and auto accessory shop owned and conducted by two rehabilitated ex-service men. They are Hans F. Anderson and Grover C. Smart.

Before the war, Mr. Smart was a farmer and railway brakeman. He served overseas as a corporal in Company L, 36th Infantry, U. S. Army, from 1917 to 1919. He received a severe wound in his left jaw and neck, and also in his hip, when he was struck by a high explosive shell, his leg being gassed.

Mr. Anderson was likewise a farmer. He was a private in Company D, 59th Infantry. He received a wound in action which resulted in the loss of an eye.

Both of these young soldiers were returned to the United States and discharged with serious vocational handicaps resulting from their wounds. They were awarded vocational training by the U. S. Veterans' Bureau and decided to learn battery and ignition work. By chance placement training was found for them both at Livingston, Mont., though in separate shops, where they became acquainted.

They made excellent use of their opportunities and upon completing their training formed a partnership and with the money they have saved while learning the trade, bought out the owner of one of the best established battery shops in the city, which is very favorably located for this work, as it is at the eastern entrance to the Yellowstone Park and many thousands of cars pass through it each season.

These battle-scarred veterans are already making good in their business venture. Receipts are steadily increasing and they feel that they are firmly established as an enterprise made possible through the training received through the U. S. Veterans' Bureau.

U. S. SHIPS ARE SOLD TO DOLLAR LINE
New Shipping Service Is Unique as it Sails Around Globe Under One Flag

Washington, Sept. 12.—Completion of two important ship sale negotiations were announced yesterday by the shipping board. Seven combination freight and passenger ships were turned over to the Dollar Line, San Francisco, for operation in a round-the-world service through the Panama canal, and two cargo steamers were sold to the Grace Line for use in the west coast to South America and trade.

The new Dollar service is declared unique in shipping history. Starting at San Francisco its ships will touch at Japan, China, the Philippines, Java, Straits Settlements, Singapore, India, Suez, Egypt, Mediterranean ports thence to New York and through the canal to the home port. There are no other ships now in continuous service around the world under one flag, according to officials of the board, who predicted the new service would be of great value to American commerce. The operators will have the full support of the board, the announcement said, in their effort to develop this new activity.

Will Be Increased
The seven ships purchased by the Dollar Line are of the "502 type," each of 10,553 gross and 6,195 net tons. The initial equipment is to be supplemented later, under the agreement by other fast freighters.

Five similar vessels are now in service, from New York to London and these, too, are to be supplemented when the Republic, formerly the President Grant, is commissioned after reconditioning.

EMPLOYMENT IS PLACING MANY MEN
Over Four Hundred Have Been Given Jobs Since Opening of Employment Office

Approximately four hundred men have been given jobs and as many more directed to localities where they were enabled to secure work by the State-Federal Free Employment office according to Herman Brocopp, who has been in charge of the office since its opening August first.

While there has been no labor shortage every man applying for work has been placed according to Mr. Brocopp. The labor situation, while about the same as that of last year, said Mr. Brocopp. Occasionally a farmer has not been able to get men just at the time he desires them but these wants are usually supplied within a day or two.

Most of the difficulty right now is in placing men in jobs which are paid by the month and are good for all winter according to Mr. Brocopp. All the jobs for temporary or day workers are being taken care of at the prevailing wage of forty cents an hour or a flat rate of four dollars a day. There has been no difficulty with I. W. W.'s in this locality this fall according to Mr. Brocopp.

The local employment office will close about Oct. 1.

Ruhr Disturbances Cause Depression In Norse Countries

"The unsettled condition of the Ruhr has much to do with the depression felt in Scandinavia," said Henry Tatley, who with Mrs. Tatley has just returned after spending two months in Norway and Sweden.

"Norway and Sweden have depended upon the Ruhr as a market for their reproductions to supply them with a large quantity of coal in return. As a result of the shutting down of the mines in Norway and Sweden many people have been thrown out of work, and this in turn has led to the migration of the better classes of these two countries to the United States as never before in their history," declared Mr. Tatley. "They are making up for the years in which they did not take advantage of their quotas of immigrants to the states."

While away the Tatleys visited their old homes, Mr. Tatley's being at Thorndhjem, in northern Norway and Mrs. Tatley's being at Carlscrona, southern Sweden. They also attended the exposition at Gothenburg and visited many other places of interest. This is the first time Mr. Tatley has been in Norway for 14 years.

He said that he found Scandinavia to have developed about the same modern methods as the United States—that the age of old methods in living and farming and industry had passed away.

EMPLOYMENT IS PLACING MANY MEN

Over Four Hundred Have Been Given Jobs Since Opening of Employment Office

Approximately four hundred men have been given jobs and as many more directed to localities where they were enabled to secure work by the State-Federal Free Employment office according to Herman Brocopp, who has been in charge of the office since its opening August first.

While there has been no labor shortage every man applying for work has been placed according to Mr. Brocopp. The labor situation, while about the same as that of last year, said Mr. Brocopp. Occasionally a farmer has not been able to get men just at the time he desires them but these wants are usually supplied within a day or two.

Most of the difficulty right now is in placing men in jobs which are paid by the month and are good for all winter according to Mr. Brocopp. All the jobs for temporary or day workers are being taken care of at the prevailing wage of forty cents an hour or a flat rate of four dollars a day. There has been no difficulty with I. W. W.'s in this locality this fall according to Mr. Brocopp.

The local employment office will close about Oct. 1.

U. S. SHIPS ARE SOLD TO DOLLAR LINE

New Shipping Service Is Unique as it Sails Around Globe Under One Flag

Washington, Sept. 13.—Completion of two important ship sale negotiations were announced yesterday by the shipping board. Seven combination freight and passenger ships were turned over to the Dollar Line, San Francisco, for operation in a round-the-world service through the Panama canal, and two cargo steamers were sold to the Grace Line, for use in the west coast to South American trade. Continuation of both services for five years is guaranteed under the sale contracts.

The new Dollar service is declared unique in shipping history. Starting at San Francisco its ships will touch at Japan, China, the Philippines, Java, Straits Settlements, Singapore, India, Suez, Egypt, Mediterranean ports thence to New York and through the canal to the home port. There are no other ships now in continuous service around the world under one flag, according to officials of the board, who predicted the new service would be of great value to American commerce. The operators will have the full support of the board, the announcement said, in their effort to develop this new activity.

Will Be Increased
The seven ships purchased by the Dollar Line are of the "502 type," each of 10,500 gross and 6,195 net tons. The initial equipment is to be supplemented later, under the agreement by other fast freighters.

Five similar vessels are now in service, from New York to London and these, too, are to be supplemented.

CORN CROP TO BRING FARMER GOOD SEED

Best Way to Select Seed Is to Hand Pick in Early Fall, Says Walster

GETS MATURED EARS

Assures Seed Corn with Vitality in Kernels and Germinating Qualities

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 13.—The excellent corn crop in North Dakota this year will assure the farmer a chance to pick good seed corn on their own farms, according to H. L. Walster, agronomist at the North Agricultural college.

"Every field in the state is full of good seed corn," said Dr. Walster, "and the farmer is fortunate in being able to secure good seed for next year's crop with no expense than the time it takes to pick it."

"The first step toward success in growing corn is the selection of the seed, and the cheapest and best way to secure good seed which will be adaptable to North Dakota conditions is to pick what is in the fields of the state rather than to send elsewhere and run the chance of getting seed that is not adaptable to this climate."

The best way to select seed corn, in the opinion of Dr. Walster, is to fall. The objection to selecting after hand pick in the field in the early all of the ears have reached maturity is that there is no way by which one can tell the earlier ears from the late maturing ones. By picking fairly early in the fall a farmer can be sure that he is getting only early maturing ears and is insuring his next season's crop from the danger of frost.

If seed selection is done from the shock, wagon or crib, one will naturally select the lowest ears. Mere size, however, is not sure indication of superiority. Such an ear may have developed from a hill that was especially favored as to sunlight and food. Experiments under actual field conditions have shown that hill selected seed has proved considerably more than where it was selected from the shock, wagon, or crib even though it came from the same field. These same ears were superior in size and appearance yet they were out-yielded by the field selected corn.

In selecting seed corn from the crib the danger, according to Dr. Walster, lies in the probability of picking many ears on which there are kernels that lack vigor and vitality. Seed corn that has been field picked and well stored will retain the vitality of the kernels and assure a higher percentage of germination.

MANDAN NEWS

Jos. Hess Accepts Park Board Position

Joseph P. Hess, president of the First National Bank who was proffered appointment to membership on the city park commission to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Gertrude Ritchey today agreed to accept the appointment and lend his assistance in straightening out the affairs of the commission since the failure of the dam project.

G. A. Renden who had been elected to the position by the board, declined the position.

Members of the 1923 football team of Mandan this year as last year will have to rely upon their speed rather than weight for victories, declared Coach Roy Reis who had had the squad out several times for workouts. There were 35 out for places.

Games scheduled are Dickinson at Mandan, Oct. 6; Bismarck at Mandan Oct. 13; at Bismarck Oct. 27. Dates are being considered with Minot and Jamestown but no final agreement has been made with either team.

Ed W. Mollist, member of the Mandan Holstein Breeders circuit and pioneer dairy farmer of the district, has just purchased and received from the Pabst farms at Oconomowoc, Wis., a bull calf, pure bred Holstein that has an enviable pedigree and registration. The animal is the offspring of the famous Holstein bull "Bobby" owned by the Pabst farms and winner of blue ribbons at a dozen state and national fairs. The sister of the mother of the local dairy man's purchase sold for $20,000 a year ago.

Little Raymond McAdams, Jr., age 3, was badly bruised and cut when he jumped from an automobile running board on which he was stealing a ride.

J. J. Gogarty left yesterday for Logan, Mont., upon receipt of word that a sister had passed away suddenly.

With the appearance of 99 new Northern Pacific box cars on the Northern Pacific railroad, sufficient means for the requirements of handling northwest products was seen.

Dorothy, 5 weeks' old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Messmer died yesterday morning at 3 o'clock at the family residence. Infantile complications were the cause of her death.

The marriage of Miss Pauline Hoffmann of Glendive formerly of Mandan to Howard Eugene Dickinson took place at 4 o'clock. They will make their home at Dickinson where Mr. Hoffmann is a Northern Pacific brakeman.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kraft of the city are the parents of a daughter born Sept. 1.

Congressman Is Stricken With Heart Trouble

Washington, Sept. 13.—Representative Martin B. Madden of Chicago, chairman of the house committee on appropriations, and one of the Republican leaders in congress, is seriously ill at his home here from a heart attack.

Apparently in robust health, Mr. Madden was stricken without warning recently while riding to his office in an automobile. He was hurried to his home, where physicians who were summoned found him in a serious condition. At a consultation no change for the worse was noted and the doctors said they expected the climax of his illness to be reached soon.

Mr. Madden, who is 68 years old, is one of the oldest members of the house in point of continuous service having entered congress 18 years ago and served continuously since then. He was reelected last November and only recently returned from a trip to Europe.

Since his return to Washington, he has worked long hours at his desk in the capitol preparing for the annual fight over appropriations which must be paid by the next congress. In connection with this work, he has devoted a great deal of time to the question of tax reduction, having prepared a plan for automatic lowering of rates whenever the treasury shows a surplus.

Drivers of taxicabs and commercial cars are heavy users of Polarine. They know that scientific lubrication is more than an economy—it is a necessity. And they know that the name "Standard Oil Company (Indiana)" means scientific lubrication. Continually increasing sales prove that Polarine is delivering the best lubricating service obtainable.

There is a grade of Polarine which exactly fits the needs of your car (consult chart). In manufacturing Polarine the bore and stroke, piston design, valve construction, lubricating and cooling system—and all other mechanical features are considered carefully. Polarine insures full compression, hence, full power.

This means easy starting—less wear and tear.

It pays to ask "Who made this oil?" Polarine is made by the Standard Oil Company (Indiana). THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

SO ON, FOREVER

Down in Yucatan, southern Mexico, an army of Indians under the direction of scientists are digging up the palaces and temples of the ancient civilization of the Maya people. They lived more than 2000 years ago and were sufficiently advanced to produce a race of artists.

The Indians have several years of digging ahead of them. Discoveries fascinating, possibly sensational, will be made. You'll read a lot about this digging job in the news between now and 1926.

Chichen Itza, chief city of the Mayas, was as large as Chicago is today. Thousands of years from now, future scientists may be digging out of mud and sand the remains of Chicago.

Over in England, Queen Mary finishes her famous doll's house. It's only eight feet high. But the greatest English architects designed it. English artists painted tiny pictures to hang on its walls. Barrie and other writers wrote miniature books for its library.

This doll's house is to be passed on to future generations as a perfect record of a fine English home in 1923. It has modern plumbing, electrical fittings, a garage housing new autos perfect to the last detail—even a wine cellar with real hooch in small bottles.

No matter what may be dug up in the Maya ruins of Yucatan, it will seem crude alongside the devices of modern times. A lot of change comes in 2000 years. And after another 2000 years the doll's house of Queen Mary will seem as crude as Maya ruins seem today.

Man is steadily improving himself toward an unknown but definite goal. Or maybe man is merely improving his equipment rather than his real self.

A HARD LIFE

You wouldn't see a drop of rain for five or six years at a stretch, if you lived in Antofagasta, Chile. In fact, there are many grown people there who have never seen a real rain storm such as we have in America.

Antofagasta is an up-to-date South American industrial city, with municipal market, motor busses, golf courses and the usual trappings of civilization.

Being an exceptionally dry country, the drinking water has to be piped long distances from the melting snow of mountain tops.

No such thing as trees growing wild in or near Antofagasta, says W. M. Stokes, resident of that city, now visiting our country. "They have to bring suitable soil into the country and blast out the rock in order to plant trees. Then they must be sprinkled regularly. The several parks we have there have been built in that way."

Stokes came north to dodge the winter of Chile. Seasons down there are the opposite of ours. Chile is having winter now. Its coldest months are June, July and August.

This place never looked better to us than after we had spent a few minutes pondering Antofagasta as pictured by Stokes. We kick when we have trouble making grass grow on the lawn. But just think how easy we have it, compared with the Antofagastans.

A platitude, possibly, but it helps us stand the hard bumps of life to remember that things never get so bad but what they're worse some place else. Troubles are no bigger than we admit they are. Whether trouble is a mountain or a mole hill, depends a lot on our mental attitude.

YOUR JOYS

The most expensive touring car in the world has just been finished by a British auto maker for an Indian prince, the Maharaja of Gwalior.

The interior of this luxurious car is 14 feet long. It has two Pullman berths—even a vanishing porcelain bath tub with hot and cold running water. The Maharaja will decorate it with jewels.

We'd like the sensation of being an India prince and owning this car. But, after the novelty had worn off, maybe we'd gladly trade places with the happy family flivver-touring. That may sound like counterfeit philosophy. But think it over.

Happiness is in ourselves, not in flashy trappings. Joy is a state of mind. Many a child forsakes its gaudy toys to play with its toes or a basket of potatoes. The Indians traded many a square mile of American real estate for a handful of bright glass beads—and weren't cheated, from their viewpoint.

RECOMMENDATION SENSIBLE

Our president doesn't go into office until four months after election, because in the days of slow communication and stage coach transportation it took that long to find out who was elected and get him to Washington.

Now the votes can be counted and the president rushed by airplane to the White House almost overnight. So it's sound sense, the recommendation by American Bar Association that our political system should be changed to put the president and congressmen into office immediately after election.

We have many other stage coach systems in politics that need correction.

AGAINST KLANS

The Knights of the Blazing Ring, which announces itself "against all clans and klans," claims that its membership is growing like wildfire.

Sounds reasonable. As soon as a Society-For becomes powerful, up rises a Society-Against to cut it down. Nature by volcanic upheaval creates a mountain, then instantly starts destroying it by erosion. This three dimensional universe of ours has an inexorable system of checks and balances. Just a matter of time.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

A LESSON IN DIVERSIFIED FARMING

A letter from a North Dakota farm mortgage dealer is illuminating in its application to the current discussion of rural distress. This banker tells us that few men in North Dakota in his business are not under some stress because of the farm situation in that State.

The correspondent tells us, however, that one large mortgage house in that territory, which is without a care in the present stress, has made it a rule for years to loan no money to a farmer who did not keep a certain amount of live stock, preferably dairy cattle, and borrowers who maintained a reasonable diversification of crops were given decided preference.

This particular mortgage house has not a single delinquent among the hundreds of farmers to whom it has made loans and who enjoy a year-around job of tending live stock, growing winter feed crops and selling various products at different seasons.—Chicago Journal of Commerce.

THE LEAGUE IN THE BALANCE

A very few days will tell the tale of the League of Nations.

It will either prove itself to be what its creators dreamed, or it will fail and pass off the stage.

There are two ways in which the League can make an ungraceful exit.

It can die by letting Italy get away with its brazen and impudent enterprise.

Or it can die by dodging the issue and seeking to prolong its life merely for the sake of living.

But a League that cannot keep peace has no excuse for being. Whether it fails in its tracks, because Italy's selfishness is too powerful for it, or decays slowly in contemptible trifling, it comes to the same thing.

Including even those who do not want America to have any share in the high mission of the League, everybody will hope that the council of the League, backed by the stern purpose of nations more interested in peace than in letting Italy lord it over the Adriatic and the Mediterranean, will be able to make itself more powerful than the nation which now seeks to make world peace of lesser account than the imperial ambitions of the Fascist lynch-law government which came lawlessly into power there not long ago.—Duluth Herald.

NOT QUITE SO FAR TO GO

It is understood that Senator Frazier, who has been urging the establishment of a daily party organ, has decided that a weekly paper will do.

At least when it goes broke, as all strictly party organs have a habit of doing sooner or later, it won't have quite so far to go.—Fargo Forum.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

Johnny Jack Rabbit, was having the most beautiful time. He was racing with himself, or rather he was racing with his shadow.

"I'll bet I can beat you to the aspen tree," he panted, starting to run again without waiting for an answer.

"I'll fool him," he began to himself. "I'll fool that silly shadow fellow. I'll put on my wind brake and stop so quickly, he'll go on ahead and not notice where I've gone. I'll hide in that patch of sweet clover and he'll never find me. I'm tired of him going everywhere I go."

Johnny Jack looked along on his long legs for a minute or two, his shadow sticking close beside him, and no wonder it made Johnny nervous.

All at once Johnny stuck his enormous ears forward like sails on a cat boat (his "wind-brake" he called them) and it stopped him as suddenly as a wreck. And then without a look to right or left, he slid into the patch of sweet clover that grew ten times as high as his head, and stopped. It was like going into a forest, all dark and quiet and sweet smelling with not a bit of sunshine anywhere.

Johnny looked around carefully. "Hee, hee, hee," he giggled. "I lost him that time! That silly old shadow of mine is still going. I bet you. He'll wonder where I've gone. Well, well! While I'm here I may as well be enjoying myself. Um! Um! This clover smells wonderful!"

And he began to break off great bunches with his teeth and chew them up as fast as he could.

He was so busy eating and chuckling over his own joke that he never noticed a dark shaggy figure with its nose to the ground, that had followed him into the clover patch.

It was Sniffer Ky-ot-y, Johnny Jack's worst enemy.

Suddenly Sniffer made a mis-step and a twig cracked under his foot. Johnny raised his head at that "if that pesky shadow hasn't found me," he declared in disgust. "Well, I'll show him! I'm not going to have him around."

And he streaked out of the clover patch, right under Sniffer's astonished nose, and tore home.

Mister Gallop and Nancy and Nick saw the whole thing. "If Johnny had known that was Sniffer, he'd have been too scared to move," laughed the dairymen. "Sometimes it's a good thing to be foolish."

LETTER FROM BEATRICE GRIMSHAW TO LESLIE PRES-COTT

Know you were surprised, Leslie, dear, when you found I was not going to be married right away even after I had written to you and explained in detail all about the wedding. You see, Dick had a chance to go out to be in the business end of moving pictures in Hollywood at a very large salary and a promise that if he made good in a year he would be drawing down a fabulous amount of money. At least it seemed fabulous to him and me.

Dick did not seem to think it was preposterous to put off our wedding. I could see that like most American young men his ambitions were stronger than his emotions. It was consequently who insisted that the marriage should be postponed. I knew that if I had even raised an eyebrow Dick would have turned down the proposition in a minute, but you see, Leslie dear, I was quite sure that if I caused him to give up this opportunity he would never be satisfied with any other position which might be offered to him, so I who was ambitious, I told him I wanted money and position, while all the while, Leslie dear, you know that I have always said I would be quite satisfied with a little suburban home and a husband who was getting enough money for us to live simply and lay aside a little for a rainy day.

However, I guess it is all for the best. Dick has written me since he arrived in Hollywood and he says that the little moving picture town is not as black as it has been painted. In fact, he intimates that the only time it is steel gray is when the fog comes up from the sea in the early morning or late at night without fragrance.

By the way, Leslie, when you first went to Albany, did you hear of a young woman by the name of Paula Perrier? Dick has met her. She is working in the same studio where he has his business offices. I remember her very well. She was a very beautiful fashion model the first time I visited Albany. Possible she may have left before you came.

Dick says that the one girl whom he has met out there who has beauty, spirituality and intellect. I am quite sure that Jack must have known about her, as I remember on my first talk of girl in the city.

Just as soon as you are well enough to have me, I am coming down to see you.

Until then I am your loving friend, BEE.

P. S.—What do you hear from Sally, Atherton?

and cover everything with draperies and screens of the softest and most delicate chiffon velvet.

He seems to like the fogs, as he likes everything else in Hollywood. He talks about the mountains, the flowers, the trees and the sunshine which, coming up from behind the crags and hills, brushes aside the gray chiffon velvet of the fog, and turns the atmosphere to gold.

He also likes the women he has seen out there. Says he has never seen so many beautiful women, all the way from sixteen to sixty, in his life.

He says that all the beautiful young girls like the United States who have the money for transportation flock to the moving picture studios. I confess I would be just a little bit, a tiny wee bit, jealous if he did not say that the beauty he sees out there is the kind without soul, just as some of the most gorgeous flowers are without fragrance.

Will Revival of Liquor In Canada Affect Dakotas?

Fargo, Sept. 13.—Will North Dakotans feel relief from the long drought when the sale of intoxicating liquor is again legalized in Manitoba? Or will the restrictions on the sale there be proof against any leak in this direction?

Opinion is divided on the question. Arthur A. Stone, federal prohibition director for North Dakota frankly confesses that he doesn't know what effect the return of liquor to Manitoba will have on this state. He is studying the laws of the province but as yet has been unable to come to any conclusion, he said.

Bootleggers Prepare
At any rate, Dame Rumor has it that bootleggers are overhauling their cars and preparing to do a big business. Their market is licking its respective lips and breathlessly awaiting the big day.

The date of the day is as yet somewhat uncertain although September 18, next Tuesday, is reported as scheduled to witness the return of "good" liquor to the Canadian province. According to the recent Manitoba law which provides for the return of liquor, the act comes into force and operation on proclamation of the lieutenant-governor in council. The lieutenant-governor is also empowered to appoint a commission of three which shall make such regulations as are deemed necessary which shall be published in the Manitoba Gazette.

Mr. Kramer was unconscious for sometime after the accident and does not remember how it happened or just where he was standing when it occurred.

In addition to the loss of his arm Mr. Kramer received a deep gash of several inches on the back of the head and one side was bruised. His parents live in Minnesota but he has been a resident of Medina for over four years, spending the summers as engineer of separators and is employed during the winter months with one of the elevators at Medina.

Hard Times Seen Where Farmers Depend on Grain

Fargo, Sept. 13.—J. E. Keint, chief federal land appraiser for the federal land bank at St. Paul, while in Moorhead, said that in sections of the country where the farmers depend entirely on grain growing are hard times apparent. He claimed that the dairy farmers are more prosperous.

His work carries him through Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan, and he said that he found that to be the case in all these states. He was visiting H. E. Roberts of the Moorhead National bank, in connection with Mr. Roberts' duties as secretary for the Clay county unit of the land bank.

Bee Keeping Is Big Profit To Hotel Proprietor

St. Thomas, N. D., Sept. 13.—Bee keeping as a sideline to the hotel business has paid him well, declares Charles Pemberton, proprietor of the Commercial hotel here since 1906.

Beginning with one swarm of bees in the spring of 1921, Mr. Pemberton now has nearly 30 and expects they will increase to 50 before winter. He hopes to eventually increase his apiary to 150 swarms.

In 1922 he sold 1,000 pounds of honey, and this year expects to market nearly 4,000 pounds. He has found a ready market so far on his own premises, his guests at the hotel buying the entire crop when the bees can produce what he can use. Mr. Pemberton expects to ship it in cartons.

Mr. Pemberton says bees are easy to handle and care for. In the summer a swarm can be caught with little trouble. Last winter he put his bees in winter quarters Nov. 23 in a little room in an old shed, keeping the temperature between 30 and 40 degrees Fahrenheit. During the winter he makes his hives, more than a score of which now dot the yard behind the hotel.

The bee pasturage here is the best possible. Good comb honey can be produced where the bees can find a long nectar flow. The country is ideal for that," declares Mr. Pemberton.

He believes that an apiary should be one of the phases of diversified farming on all farms of this section. He points out that if there were more bees, the honey could be shipped in carload lots.

He homesteaded in Wells county after residing for a time in Wisconsin and Minnesota, he returned to North Dakota and settled in Benson county.

His widow, five daughters and one son survive.

Logan Farmers Propose Strike

Burnstad, N. D., Sept. 13.—Farmers of Logan county propose to strike as do labor unions.

In a mass meeting held in Burnstad, resolutions were adopted declaring that wheat was being produced at a cost above the selling price, and asserting there is a great loss in raising farm products except dairy and wool and added: "Whereas, the labor unions during the late war and at the present time use the strike as a club to force the public to come to their terms regardless of the suffering public; therefore, be it resolved, all farmers and producers of livestock, grain, cotton, etc. unite to refuse to market any of their products for such a period and at such a time as the majority of the organizations designate."

1293 Crop Pays For Farm Land

Today his land is paid for from the crop which yielded 1,293 bushels of flax worth $250, and 199 bushels of barley worth $152, a total return of $4,000.52. In addition he has a good crop of native hay from 15 acres.

Eliminating Uncertainty

The farmer's problem is everyone's problem. The success of some plan that has for its purpose the improvement of agricultural conditions will react to the benefit of both town and country.

The single-crop system of agriculture has proven itself impracticable. The "cow-sow-hen" program as a workable substitute is gaining ground rapidly. One of its chief values lies in the fact that it tends to eliminate the element of uncertainty from farming operations.

Intelligent discussion as to methods, coupled with their practical application, will assure success and bring increased prosperity to this community.

BRING LOAD OF INDIAN RELICS

All the materials, Indian lore, and history of the characteristics and life of the aborigines will be sent to the Museum of the American Indian of New York, for which he is now engaged in research work. Dr. Gilmore expects to leave in the near future for Nebraska where he will engage in similar work in regard to the Indians of that region.

AT THE MOVIES

CAPITOL
Local followers of Tom Mix, the big luminary of the William Fox walkin, will have another treat in "Do and Dare," his latest vehicle which comes to the Capitol theater tomorrow. The new screenplay, which is from the pen of Marion Brooks and which was directed by Edward Sedgwick, casts the vigorous hero in three distinct roles—first, as the valorous and penit-defying scout of the western plains who rescues the beautiful daughter of the commandant of a desolate frontier fort from a hostile Indian tribe and then saves the post from the onslaughts of the savages; second, as the guileless and passive youth who neither knows of, nor seeks adventure in his provincial shell, but who is suddenly fired by the desire for romance when he hears the land tales of his famous forebear; and third, as his brave and resolute participant in a South American revolution, whose daring deeds win for him the woman he loves and the command of a nation's military forces.

Those who are familiar with the varied talents of this dynamic actor can easily picture the grace and dash wherewith he conducts himself in the numerous scenes of this photoplay. To say it is Tom at his best is an old description but true nevertheless.

Vows at Cavalier

The marriage of Miss Della Kibler of Cavalier and Harmon King, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. King of Bismarck took place at the home of the bride's mother at Cavalier Wednesday, Sept. 12, in the presence of about fifty relatives and friends of the bridal couple.

An abundance of beautiful fall flowers and cut flowers were used in the home to make an appropriate setting for the happy affair. The bride appeared charming in a gown of white tulle and lace. She will be remembered in Bismarck as a graduate nurse from the Bismarck hospital. For the past two years she has been engaged in nursing in Grand Forks. CHINA SPREADS INFLUENCE IN COLOR AND DESIGN

COPYRIGHT BY M. CALLS

Supplanting the vogue for Egyptian, Persian and Paisley designs come embroideries, colors and even styles from China.

The Chinese colors, blues and green especially, are shown in early fall dresses. Printed fabrics show Chinese designs and the colorful fantastic Chinese embroideries are everywhere in high favor.

There are even suggestions of the lines of Chinese garments in the high necked jackets and dresses with standing collars.

Of course costume accessories too show the influence of the east in the fashionable jade jewelry and Chinese-embroidered bags.

Eliminating Uncertainty

The farmer's problem is everyone's problem. The success of some plan that has for its purpose the improvement of agricultural conditions will react to the benefit of both town and country.

The single-crop system of agriculture has proven itself impracticable. The "cow-sow-hen" program as a workable substitute is gaining ground rapidly. One of its chief values lies in the fact that it tends to eliminate the element of uncertainty from farming operations.

Intelligent discussion as to methods, coupled with their practical application, will assure success and bring increased prosperity to this community.

BRING LOAD OF INDIAN RELICS

Dr. Melvin R. Gilmore, formerly curator at the state historical society, has just returned from Fort Berthold where he has completed his research work for relics and history of the Missouri river Indians of that vicinity.

He brought a load of Indian relics, among which was a fish trap used by the Arikara. All the materials, Indian lore, and history of the characteristics and life of the aborigines will be sent to the Museum of the American Indian of New York, for which he is now engaged in research work. Dr. Gilmore expects to leave in the near future for Nebraska where he will engage in similar work in regard to the Indians of that region.

Judge and Mrs. Miller who have been spending the summer at their cottage on Detroit lake will take up their residence in the Wellington apartments the last of the week.

AT THE MOVIES

CAPITOL

Local followers of Tom Mix, the big luminary of the William Fox wilkin, will have another treat in "Do and Dare," his latest vehicle which comes to the Capitol theater tomorrow.

The new screenplay, which is from the pen of Marion Brooks and which was directed by Edward Sedgwick, casts the vigorous hero in three distinuous roles—first, as the valorous and peril-defying scout of the western plains who rescues the beautiful daughter of the commandant of a desolate frontier fort from a hostile Indian tribe and then saves the post from the onslaughts of the savages; second, as the guileless and passive youth who neither knows of, nor seeks adventure in his provincial shell, but who is suddenly fired by the desire for romance when he hears the lurid tales of his famous forebear; and third, as the brave and resolute participant in a South American revolution, whose daring deeds win for him the woman he loves and the command of a nation's military forces.

Those who are familiar with the varied talents of this dynamic actor can easily picture the grace and dash wherewith he conducts himself in the numerous scenes of this photoplay. To say it is Tom at his best is an old description but true nevertheless.

THE ELTINGE.

Back in the past well dimmed by the flight of years, Charles Ogle, well-known character actor, was enacting the role of the old Irishman in support of Chauncey Olcott in the Irish play, "Edmund Burke." In accordance with the story Ogle had three children. The children were billed on the stage as Gladys, Lottie and Jack. Now the famous trio of photostars known as Mary, Lottie and Jack Pickford.

Now this same Mr. Ogle is in the supporting cast of this same Jack Pickford, now a full-grown man and a screen star, in his latest picture, "Garrison's Finish," which shows players.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

SO ON, FOREVER
Down in Yucatan, southern Mexico, an army of Indians under the direction of scientists are digging up the palaces and temples of the ancient civilization of the Maya people. They lived more than 2000 years ago and were sufficiently advanced to produce a race of artists.

The Indians have several years of digging ahead of them. Discoveries fascinating, possibly sensational, will be made. You'll read a lot about this digging job in the news between now and 1926.

Chichen Itza, chief city of the Mayas, was as large as Chicago is today. Thousands of years from now, future scientists may be digging out of mud and sand the remains of Chicago.

Over in England, Queen Mary finishes her famous doll's house. It's only eight feet high. But the greatest English architects designed it. English artists painted tiny pictures to hang on its walls. Barrie and other writers wrote miniature books for its library.

This doll's house is to be passed on to future generations as a perfect record of a fine English home in 1923. It has modern plumbing, electrical fittings, a garage housing wee autos perfect to the last detail—even a wine cellar with real hooch in small bottles.

No matter what may be dug up in the Maya ruins of Yucatan, it will seem crude alongside the devices of modern times. A lot of change comes in 2000 years. And after another 2000 years the doll's house of Queen Mary will seem as crude as Maya ruins seem today.

Man is steadily improving himself toward an unknown but definite goal. Or maybe man is merely improving his equipment rather than his real self.

A HARD LIFE
You wouldn't see a drop of rain for five or six years at a stretch, if you lived in Antofagasta, Chile. In fact, there are many grown people there who have never seen a real rain storm such as we have in America.

Antofagasta is an up-to-date South American industrial city, with municipal park, motor busses, golf courses and the usual trappings of civilization.

Being an exceptionally dry country, the drinking water has to be piped long distances from the melting snow of mountain tops.

No such thing as trees growing wild in or near Antofagasta, says W. M. Stokes, resident of that city, now visiting our country. "They have to bring suitable soil into the country and blast out the rock in order to plant trees. Then they must be sprinkled regularly. The several parks we have there have been built in that way."

Stokes came north to dodge the winter of Chile. Seasons down there are the opposite of ours. Chile is having winter now. Its coldest months are June, July and August.

This place never looked better to us than after we had spent a few minutes pondering Antofagasta as pictured by Stokes. We kick when we have trouble making grass grow on the lawn. But just think how easy we have it, compared with the Antofagastans.

A platitude, possibly, but it helps us stand the hard bumps of life to remember that things never get so bad but what they're worse some place else. Troubles are no bigger than we admit they are. Whether trouble is a mountain or a mole hill, depends a lot on our mental attitude.

YOUR JOYS
The most expensive touring car in the world has just been finished by a British auto maker for an Indian prince, the Maharaja of Gwalior.

The interior of this luxurious car is 14 feet long. It has two Pullman berths—even a vanishing porcelain bath tub with hot and cold running water. The Maharaja will decorate it with jewels.

We'd like the sensation of being an India prince and owning this car. But, after the novelty had worn off, maybe we'd gladly trade places with the happy family flivver-touring. That may sound like counterfeit philosophy. But think it over.

Happiness is in ourselves, not in flashy trappings. Joy is a state of mind. Many a child forsakes its gaudy toys to play with its toes or a basket of potatoes. The Indians traded many a square mile of American real estate for a handful of bright glass beads—and weren't cheated, from their viewpoint.

RECOMMENDATION SENSIBLE
Our president doesn't go into office until four months after election, because in the days of slow communication and stage coach transportation it took that long to find out who was elected and get him to Washington.

Now the votes can be counted and the president rushed by airplane to the White House almost overnight. So it's sound sense, the recommendation by American Bar Association that our political system should be changed to put the president and congressmen into office immediately after election.

We have many other stage coach systems in politics that need correction.

AGAINST KLANs
The Knights of the Blazing Ring, which announces itself "against" all clans and klanes," claims that its membership is growing like wildfire.

Sounds reasonable. As soon as a Society-For becomes powerful up rises a Society-Against to cut it down. Nature by volcanic upheaval creates a mountain, then instantly starts destroying it by erosion. This three dimensional universe of ours has an inexorable system of checks and balances. Just a matter of time.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

A LESSON IN DIVERSIFIED FARMING

A letter from a North Dakota farm mortgage dealer is illuminating in its application to the current discussion of rural distress. This banker tells us that few men in North Dakota in his business are not under some stress because of the farm situation in that State.

The correspondent tells us, however, that one large mortgage house in that territory, which is without peer here in the present stress, has made it a rule for years to loan no money to a farmer who did not keep a certain amount of live stock, preferably dairy cattle, and borrowers who maintained a reasonable diversification of crops were given decided preference.

This particular mortgage house has not a single delinquent among the hundreds of farmers to whom it has made loans and who enjoy a year-around job of tending live stock, growing winter feed crops, and selling various products at different seasons. —Chicago Journal of Commerce.

THE LEAGUE IN THE BALANCE

A very few days will tell the tale of the League of Nations. It will either prove itself to be what its creators dreamed of, or it will fail and pass off the stage.

There are two ways in which the League can make an ungraceful exit. It can die by letting Italy get away with its brazen and impudent enterprise.

Or it can die by dodging the issue and seeking to prolong its life merely for the sake of living. But a League that cannot keep peace has no excuse for being. Whether it fails in its tracks because Italy's selfishness is too powerful for it, or delays slowly in contemptible trifling, it comes to the same thing.

Including even those who do not want America to have any share in the high mission of the League, everybody will hope that the council of the League, backed by the stern purpose of nations more interested in peace than in letting Italy lord it over the Adriatic and the Mediterranean, will be able to show itself more powerful than the nation which now seeks to make world peace of lesser account than the imperial ambitions of the Fascist imperial-law government which came lawlessly into power there not long ago. —Duluth Herald.

NOT QUITE SO FAR TO GO

It is understood that Senator Frazier, who has been urging the establishment of a daily party organ, has decided that a weekly paper will do.

At least when it goes broke, as all strictly party organs have a habit of doing sooner or later, it won't have quite so far to go. —Fargo Forum.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton
Johnny Jack Rabbit was having the most beautiful time. He was racing with himself, or rather he was racing with his shadow.

"I'll bet I can beat you to the aspen tree," he panted, starting to run again without waiting for an answer.

Suddenly he began to chuckle. "I'll fool him," he began to himself. "I'll fool that silly shadow fellow. I'll put on my white brake and stop so quickly, he'll go on ahead and not notice where I've gone. I'll hide in that patch of sweet clover and he'll never find me. I'm tired of him going everywhere I go."

Johnny Jack lopped along on his long legs for a minute or two, his shadow sticking close beside him, and he wondered it made Johnny nervous.

All at once Johnny struck his enormous ears forward like sails on a cat boat (his "wind-brake" he called them) and it stopped him as suddenly as a wreck. And then without a look to right or left, he slid into the patch of sweet clover that grew ten times as high as his head, and stopped. He was like going into a forest, all dark and quiet and sweet smelling with not a bit of sunshine anywhere.

Johnny looked around carefully. "Hee, hee hee," he giggled. "I lost him that time! That silly old shadow of mine is still going, I bet you. He'll wonder where I've gone. Well, well! Wait! Where I may as well be enjoying myself. Um! Um! This clover smells wonderful!"

And he began to break off great bunches with his teeth and chew them up as fast as he could.

He was so busy eating and chuckling over his own joke that he never noticed a dark shaggy figure with its nose to the ground, that had followed him into the clover patch.

It was Sniffer Spotsy, Johnny Jack's worst enemy. Suddenly Sniffer made a mis-step and a twig cracked under his foot. Johnny raised his head at that "if that pesky shadow hasn't found me!" he declared in disgust. "Well! I'll show him! I'm not going to have him lose me!"

And he stroked out of the clover patch, right under Sniffer's astonished nose, and tore home.

Mister Gallop and Nancy and Nick saw the whole thing. "If Johnny had known that was Sniffer, he'd have been too scared to move," laughed the dairymen. "Sometimes it's a good thing to be foolish." (To Be Continued.)

LETTER FROM BEATRICE GRIMSHAW TO LESLIE PRES-COTT

I know you were surprised, Leslie, dear, when you found I was not going to be married right away even after I had written to you and explained in detail all about the wedding. You see, Dick had a chance to go out to be in the business end of moving pictures in Hollywood at a very large salary and a promise that if he made good in a year he would be drawing down a fabulous amount of money. At least it seemed so to him and me.

Dick did not seem to think it was preposterous to put off our wedding. I could see that like most American young men his ambitions were longer than his emotions. It was consequently when he insisted that the marriage should be postponed, I knew that if I had even raised an eyebrow Dick would have turned down the proposition in a minute.

You see, Leslie, dear, I was quite sure that if I caused him to give up this opportunity he would never be satisfied with any other position which might be offered to him, so I made him think that I was the one who was ambitious. I told him I wanted money and position, while all the while, Leslie, dear, you know that I have always said I would be quite satisfied with a little suburban home and a husband who was getting enough money for us to live simply and lay aside a little for a rainy day.

However, I guess it is all for the best. Dick has written me since he arrived in Hollywood and he says that the little moving picture town is not as black as it has been painted. In fact, he intimates that the only time it is steel gray is when the fog comes up from the sea in the early morning or late at night.

and cover everything with draperies and screens of the softest and most delicate chiffon velvet.

He seems to like the fogs, as he likes everything else in Hollywood. He talks about the mountains, the flowers, the trees and the sunshine which, coming up from behind the crags and hills, brushes aside the gray-chiffon velvet of the fog, and turns the atmosphere to gold.

He also likes the women he has seen out there. Says he has never seen so many beautiful women, all the way from sixteen to sixty, in his life.

He says that all the beautiful young girls in the United States who cannot get the money for transportation flock to the moving picture studios. I confess I would be just a little bit, a tiny wee bit, jealous if he did say that the beauty he sees out there is of the kind without soul, just as some of the most gorgeous flowers are without fragrance.

By the way, Leslie, when you first went to Albany, did you hear of a young woman by the name of Paula Perrier? Dick has met her. She is working in the same studio where he has his business office. I remember her very well. She was a very beautiful fashion model the first time I visited Albany. Possible she may have left before you came.

Dick says this is the one girl whom he has met out there who has beauty, spirituality and intellect. I am quite sure that Jack must have known about her as I remember on my first visit to Albany she was the most talked of girl in the city.

Just as soon as you are well enough to have me, I am coming down to see you.

Until then I am your loving friend,

BEE.

Will Revival of Liquor In Canada Affect Dakotans?

Fargo, Sept. 13.—Will North Dakotans feel relief from the long drought when the sale of intoxicating liquor is again legalized in Manitoba? Or will their restrictions on the sale there be proof against any leak in this direction?

Opinion is divided on the question. Arthur A. Stone, federal prohibition director for North Dakota, frankly confesses that he doesn't know what effect the return of liquor to Manitoba will have on this state. He is studying the laws of the province but as yet has been unable to come to any conclusion, he said.

Bootleggers Prepare
At any rate, Dame Rumor has it that bootleggers are overhauling their cars and preparing to do a big business. Their market is "licking" the respective laws and breathlessly awaiting the word.

The date of that day is as yet somewhat uncertain although September 18; next Tuesday, is reported as scheduled to witness the return of "good" liquor to the Canadian province. According to the recent Manitoba law which provides for the return of liquor, the act comes into force on operation on proclamation of the lieutenant-governor in council.

The lieutenant-governor is also empowered to appoint a commission of three which shall make such regulations as are deemed necessary which shall be published in the Manitoba Gazette.

One horse was drowned.

Arm Torn Off By Separator

Jamestown, Sept. 13.—Robert Kramer of Medina, is resting easily at Trinity hospital following injuries received late Monday afternoon near Medina while engaged in running a separator. Something went wrong with the belt of the machine and in adjusting it Mr. Kramer had his right arm below the elbow torn off. After reaching Trinity it was found necessary to amputate above the elbow. Mr. Kramer was unconscious for sometime after the accident and does not remember how it happened or just where he was standing when it occurred.

In addition to the loss of his arm, Mr. Kramer received a deep gash of several inches on the back of the head and one side was bruised. His parents live in Minnesota but he has been a resident of Medina for over four years, spending the summers as engineer of separators and is employed during the winter months with one of the elevators at Medina.

Hard Times Seen Where Farmers Depend on Grain

Fargo, Sept. 13.—J. E. Keint, chief federal land appraiser for the federal land bank at St. Paul, while in Moorhead, said that in sections of the country where the farmers depend entirely on grain growing are hard times apparent. He claimed that the dairy farmers are more prosperous.

His work carries him through Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan, and he said that he found that to be the case in all these states. He was visiting H. E. Roberts of the Moorhead National bank, in connection with Mr. Roberts' duties as secretary for the Clay county unit of the land bank.

Bee Keeping Is Big Profit To Hotel Proprietor

St. Thomas, N. D., Sept. 13.—Bee keeping as a sideline to the hotel business has paid him, declares Charles Pemberton, proprietor of the Commercial hotel here since 1906.

Beginning with one swarm of bees in the spring of 1921, Mr. Pemberton now has nearly 30 and expects they will increase to 50 before winter. He hopes to eventually increase his apiary to 150 swarms.

In 1922 he sold 1,000 pounds of honey, and this year he expects to market nearly 4,000 pounds. He has found a ready market, so far on his own premises, his guests at the hotel buying the entire output. When more is produced than he can use, Mr. Pemberton expects to ship it in cartons.

Mr. Pemberton says bees are easy to handle and care for. In the summer a swarm can be caught with little trouble. Last winter he put his bees in winter quarters Nov. 23 in a little room in an old shed, keeping the temperature between 30 and 40 degrees Fahrenheit. During the winter he makes his hives, more than a score of which now dot the yard behind his hotel.

"The bee pasturage here is the best possible. Good comb honey can be produced only where the bees can find a long nectar flow. This country is ideal for that," declares Mr. Pemberton.

He believes that an apiary should be one of the diversified interests of a farmer on all farms of this section. He points out that if there were more bees, the honey could be shipped in carload lots.

Logan Farmers Propose Strike

Burnstad, N. D., Sept. 13.—Farmers of Logan county propose to strike as do labor unions.

In a mass meeting held in Burnstad, resolutions were adopted declaring that wheat was being produced at a cost above the selling price, and asserting there is a great loss in raising farm products except dairy and wool and added: "Whereas, the labor unions during the late war and at the present time use the strike as a club to force the public to accept their terms regardless of the suffering of the people, therefore, be it resolved, all farmers and producers of livestock, grain, cotton, etc. unite to refuse to market any of their products, for such a period and at such a time as the majority of the executives of the various national farm organizations designate."

In addition he has a good crop of native hay from 15 acres.

Flow Calls All Alumni To Meeting at H. S. Gym Tonight at Seven-Thirty

The alumni will present a strong team when they play the local high school football team Saturday afternoon, according to Benton Flow, captain of the alumni outfit. Flow, who expects to leave the first of next week for early practice with the state A. C. squad, will have Roberts, Fogarty, Kludt, Middaugh, Doyle, F. Flow, Moses, Scroggins, and several other of the stars of previous teams to pick from and to build his team around and he expects to use these men to good advantage.

The High School team is working hard to get in shape for the annual tussle with the alumni and after a week of strenuous practice they are awaiting the game.

Phil Boise, of the A. C. team, will not be in town for the game according to Captain Flow.

Flow, in a statement issued last night, called for the support of the alumni and asked that all of the alumni who are interested in football and have played the game turn out for the game.

FIRPO HAS OWN STYLE IN RING

He Admits it Has Faults But Points to Victories to Show Its Results

MANY ADVISERS

Relies on Savage Tactics
When He Is Hard Pressed
But Gets Results

New York, Sept. 12.—Luis Angel Firpo has a style all his own in the ring. He admits his faults, but points to his unbroken string of triumphs as proof of his ability to get results in his own way. He is confident that his methods, unorthodox as they may be, will enable him to wear the world's heavyweight crown after his battle with Jack Dempsey at the Polo Grounds September 14.

Firpo has been beset by advisers, well-wishers and the like, both in his pugilistic and business affairs, ever since he rose to prominence in this country. But the Argentine giant has listened, then waived most of them aside.

Firpo's first pugilistic efforts here, early in 1922, showed him the rawest of novices but possessed of astonishing strength and a club-like right that offset all other handicaps. His amazing strength and punching power alone were responsible for his early victories over Sailor Macted, Joe McCann and Jack Herman, third-raters.

Then, about a year later he returned to the United States to box Bill Brennan. Firpo won by a knockout in the twelfth round, but only after sustaining terrific punishment. Again his bull-like courage and power pulled him through where his awkward attempts at ring science failed. He was guilty of the most elementary of ring faults, leading with his right. His footwork was of the crudest, and he had no effective defense.

Under Tutelage. Just before this bout he was put under the tutelage of Jimmy DeForest, veteran trainer, who had conditioned Dempsey for the fight in which he took the title from Jess Willard. Some effects of this tutoring were apparent when Firpo won from Brennan, but the South American was still lacking in many essential points of the game.

Firpo showed vast improvement in all-around form when he knocked out Jack McAuliffe. His footwork and defense were better than in any of his previous performances, while he still retained his irresistible attacking power. Against Willard a lumbering object, Firpo did not show to remarkable advantage, but he fought his own battle and won decisively.

In all of these fights, however, Firpo, when hardest pressed, fell back upon the rushing, bull-like charges that had invariably carried him to victory. Under the heat of battle he flung most of his newly acquired science to the winds and fought primitively both fists flying with sledge hammer force. His left had become a more potent weapon under DeForest's coaching, but it was the right that brought down his foe.

The Willard fight marked the end of DeForest's tutelage and soon afterward the advent of Horatio Valle, a gentleman sportsman of Argentina, as general director of Firpo's training activities. While consistently DeForest was released because of the handicap under which

Phrenological Analysis Shows Argentine
Would Have Made Good in Practically
Any Profession

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following scientific analysis of Luis Angel Firpo was made exclusively for the Bismarck Tribune and NEA Service by Jessie Allen Fowler, noted phrenologist.

BY JESSIE A. FOWLER.
Vice President American Institute of Phrenology.

Firpo has a remarkable organization for strength and durability. He has evidently come from an exceptionally sturdy ancestry. He is not the result of one generation, but ought to be able to trace his ancestral strength for many generations back.

He has a remarkably strong motive temperament, which gives him a physique of intense power and endurance. He is guided largely by his perceptive intellect, and his mental keenness of vision is what will aid him in his work quite as much as his physical strength, for his perception of how to use his strength will come largely through his scientific and observing qualities.

He is broad between the ears, hence has energy, force and executive power which he can use to advantage in the profession he has chosen.

He has the equipment in the chin of one who possesses exceptional endurance. Thus he is not easily put off his balance and should be able to hold his own in many contests.

Not Easily Intimidated. His nose is broad and stock rather than long, which is another indication of his will power and perseverance.

He is not easily intimidated, for he has very little fear, and his cautiousness is not large, though he has some foresight and capacity to reckon things up, predict and see consequences.

His motive temperament gives him his remarkable width of head over the ears; his width across the temples, contributing constructive ability; and width over the eyes, which enables him to see systematically every detail of things that interest him.

He is also broad between the eyes, which enables him to grasp a situation and relatively recall the he worked in not being able to speak Spanish, it was understood that Firpo also liked under the veteran trainer's discipline and preferred to employ his own methods of conditioning. This he could do with La Valle.

Natural Fighter. Firpo is a natural fighter. His style is instinctive, rather than the result of rigorous preparation. He learned much from DeForest, but he profited most from experience. He has acquired ring knowledge and generalship quickly. He has proved that he can take the hardest of punishment, weather the hottest of fistic storms, and come back with a demolishing attack of his own.

Against Dempsey Firpo will be vastly improved in form over his earlier performances. He is not as fast, nor has he the champion's repertoire of blows, but he has added a fair measure of skill and scientific ability to his rugged strength. Firpo's left may be more of an asset to him than ever before, as a result of his training, but his rights to the body and the head will be his most effective punches, the blows by which he hopes to take the title back to Buenos Aires.

HUFFMAN WINS OVER ANDY BOLLIN

Collis Gets Referee's Decision in Third After Foul by Bollin

Merle Collis of Huff won a scheduled ten round bout over Andy Bollin, of St. Paul, at the fair grounds in Mandan last night, when the referee called the bout in the third round after an alleged foul by Bollin.

Bollin had put the near kayo on Collis several times during the first two rounds, and was a better boxer than the Huff man. Bollin weighed in at 171 pounds, while Collis tipped the scales at 165.

Both men were in the pink of condition. Collis, from training with the amateurs of the Huff-St. Anthony district and Bollin from his training in St. Paul.

Grand Forks, Sept. 13.—Candidates for the University of North Dakota football team, who have been called to early practice today, are beginning to arrive in the city. "Doc" Harris, center last year, heads the invasion. Harris arrived yesterday. More are expected today and it is expected that close to fifty will report for the first workout this afternoon.

Paul J. Davis, head coach of the Flickertails, said yesterday that Lawrence, big athlete from Hillsboro, who was intending to enter the university this fall and try out for a position in the backfield, had gone to Moorhead and would enter Concordia College. Lawrence is reputed to be fast and heavy and was expected to be a valuable addition to the squad. The work of putting up the new fence around University field is in progress and will be in readiness for the opening of the season on September 29, when Moorhead Normal will be played on the home grounds.

CLIMB METEORIC

Fought First Fight in United States for a Purse of $300

New York, Sept. 12.—Pugilistic annals record no more meteoric rise to fame than that of Luis Angel Firpo, swarthy Argentine, who has climbed in 18 months from obscurity to champion of the world.

A year and a half ago, Firpo—crude, awkward and a third-rater in the heavyweight scale—got $300 for his first bout in the United States. When he battles Dempsey he will reap his hundred harvest of at least $100,000, win or lose.

In the last six months alone Firpo has added more than $150,000 to his bank account. He received $10,000 for knocking out Bill Brennan, $25,000 for disposing of Jack McAuliffe II, and approximately $80,000, his largest purse, for his victory over Jess Willard. In addition he has profited from exhibitions, motion picture rights and other ventures.

FIGHTERS BOTH ARE IN WAITING

Impatient For Day of Battle to Come; Both Men Loafing at Camps

New York, Sept. 13.—Fans tonight began to scent the "smoke" of battle—that atmosphere peculiarly confined to heavyweight championship fights—with the title struggle between Jack Dempsey, champion, and Luis Angel Firpo, Argentine challenger, but one day off.

The first of the rival gladiators reached New York last night when Firpo arrived at 8 o'clock from his training camp in Atlantic City.

Followers of both fighters declared today, at the conclusion of training camps, that they were conditioned to perfection. They will enter the ring at the Polo grounds fit for the greatest test of their careers.

Construction of the ringade, temporary bleacher sections and other additions to the polo grounds will be completed by noon today, said the promoter.

Little change was reported today in betting odds.

A notable gathering, including men prominent in society, the financial end, theatrical world, will view the championship match.

PRIMO ENDS TRAINING. Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 13.—A light bag punching, rope skipping and shadow boxing lasting less than ten minutes, ended Luis Angel Firpo's training yesterday for the world's championship match with Jack Dempsey in New York Friday night. Immediately after the workout, the Argentine and his party boarded a train for New York.

Human Hair Made Into Cloth
Resists Heavy Pressure

Tons of human hair are being turned into cloth by a southern factory to supply the demand of cotton-seed oil mills of that section for a fabric that will withstand, for a time at least, a pressure of 4,000 to 4,500 pounds a square inch. Only that made from hair is strong enough. Formerly it was woven from camel's hair, but the price of that product went to such high levels as to prohibit its use. After a series of tests, a method was devised for weaving human hair in specially constructed machines. The search for a sufficient supply to keep the factory going ended in China, where buyers found a veritable army of coolies ready to sacrifice their long queues for American money. Bound in huge bales, the hair arrives at the factory ready for weaving, having already been inspected and sterilized on the way over from the Orient. Combed and carded, it is twisted into threads and fed into the looms, where it is woven into rolls of cloth 1/4 inch thick, the bolt weighing 400 pounds.

To aid life guards in rescue work, a floating frame supported in the water between two air tanks, enables them to reach danger points quickly. Half submerged, the rider drives a propeller by working pedals with his feet, traveling at greater speed than swimming would permit. The body of the victim may be easily thrown across the front of the tanks and carried to shore.

Tag Fish for Identification. A practical and comprehensive plan has been suggested by the Bureau of Fisheries, to help in studying the habits of various fish such as salmon, cod, fish, pollock and haddock. A device similar to a bachelor button of aluminum is riveted into the fish's tail. With this system the oceanic migration of fish, their rate of growth in various localities, and age can be determined. The bureau pays 25 cents each for tags sent in if accompanied by place and date of capture, length, weight and sex of fish, and how marked.

Mule, as Caddy, Carries Bags of Golfers. Because of lack of caddies, a mule is being used on one golf course in the South to carry the bags of the players.

One of the mule's advantages over the human caddy is the fact that he can carry as many bags as can be strapped on his back. Then, too, he works without tips or pay.

drive to open up new markets for high-class North Dakota seed.

Samples of the Triumph variety were planted at the Louisiana college from North Dakota, Nebraska, Wisconsin and Montana, and it was found that the North Dakota tubers averaged the highest percentage of prime potatoes of any of the samples grown, the percentage of prime potatoes from this state being in excess of 85. In yield North Dakota potatoes beat those from Nebraska, were almost equal to Wisconsin's, but the Montana samples stood at the top of the list with an average of 192 bushels per acre. The average for Wisconsin was 167, North Dakota 163, and Nebraska 160.

Triumph seed potatoes from this state were also shipped by the North Dakota Experiment station to Alabama, Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas for trials, and Early Ohio and Cobblers were sent to Indiana, Ohio, Missouri and Iowa. Reports have not yet been received of the results from the 1923 plantings of North Dakota seed in these states.

"We are very much encouraged over the outlook for opening up new markets and strengthening the demand for North Dakota seed potatoes," declared Dr. Benton of the marketing department at the Agricultural college. "The southern states have been depending largely on Wisconsin, Nebraska and Maine for seed, and the results of the tests in Louisiana show conclusively the superiority of the North Dakota seed, both in quality and yield. We expect reports on the other samples sent to the south and east in the near future."

The North Dakota samples sent to Louisiana were obtained from the farms of W. W. Keltner, Williston; R. H. Edmister, Crosby; G. Stenneger, Arnegard; L. D. Colton, Burlington; Chas. A. Benson, Arnegard, and C. W. Hookway, Granville.

Auto Lights Under Fenders Remove Strong Glare. By having all of its rays strike directly on the road ahead, an automobile lamp attached by a single bolt to the underside of the front fender inside the wheel, does away with blinding glare of ordinary high-powered headlights that frequently annoy those driving at night. Its shaft of light, thrown for 300 feet, is low enough to avoid the eyes of approaching motorists and cyclists, and clearly shows the road from both directions, preventing many accidents and making dimming unnecessary. A bracket allows the level of the light to be raised or lowered with ease.

Mixing Feed for Hogs. The novel method of slopping hogs shown in the drawing has been found a great time and labor saver on an Iowa farm.

The iron tank shown in the foreground is placed at one end of the concrete watering trough, and can be filled with water from the pipe that supplies the trough. The tankage, shorts, or other ground feeds are mixed in the tank and enough water run in to make a thin slop. Then the valve indicated by the arrow is opened, and one of the troughs filled, whereupon the valve is closed again, the pipe swung over to the other trough, and this one filled. The valve and tank, and the inner ends of the troughs, are fenced in as shown, so that the hogs will not interfere with the filling operation.

Rating For Fire Prevention
Activities

An invitation has been extended to the Bismarck Association of Commerce to participate in a nation-wide fire waste contest among chambers of commerce and other civic organizations being conducted by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States. Suitable awards will be made to the civic organization in each of four designated classes receiving the highest rating in fire prevention activities during 1923. The contest will be retroactive to January 1, 1923.

For the purpose of competing in the contest, chambers of commerce are divided into classifications, as follows:

Cities of over 100,000 population.
Cities between 50,000 and 100,000 population.
Cities between 20,000 and 50,000 population.
Cities under 20,000 population.

This classification is made by the National Chamber, since it is pointed out that the average fire losses are lower in the smaller cities, and the scope of fire prevention activities is often dependent upon the size of the municipality.

Chambers of commerce will be judged on their relative accomplishments during the year and graded on the following basis:

Actual accomplishments in reducing fire loss 40 percent.
Educational activities 30 percent.
Permanent improvements in protection and construction 30 percent.

In addition to the prizes awarded to the chamber with the highest rating in each of the four classes, a grand prize will be awarded to the chamber with the highest rating, regardless of classification. A board of three nationally prominent men will be named to decide upon the winners.

All chambers of commerce or civic associations connected with the National Chamber are eligible to enter the contest. A standing fire prevention committee or similar body must conduct the competition activities of each chamber.

The Association of Commerce Committee is P. E. Byrne, chairman; P. J. Davis, T. Quannrud, S. D. Dietz, T. J. Galvin.

In announcing plans for the contest, Elliot H. Goodwin, resident vice president of the National Chamber, in a letter to local secretaries says: "Fire last year claimed almost half as many Americans as were actually killed in battle during the World War. In property loss for the same period would have paid over half the interest on our national debt. Yet our fire losses this year are higher than ever."

"The loss of life and property by fire can be reduced. Chambers of Commerce, with fire prevention committees, in cities of over 20,000 population have proved this. During last year the average per capita fire loss in these cities was 30 percent less than the national per capita loss. While they are to be congratulated upon this showing, we still have a long way to go before we reach the low records of Great Britain which showed a reduction in fire losses last year."

ther Program at Meeting
This Evening

F. T. Cuthbert of Devils Lake, former president of the North Dakota Bar association and prominent state lawyer has been chosen as the principal speaker for the Constitution Week exercises to be held at the auditorium next Thursday night, according to A. F. Bradley, secretary of the Association of Commerce. At a meeting tonight to be held in the Association of Commerce rooms the committee in charge of the Constitution week program, consisting of Judge I. P. Davies, chairman; Mrs. H. F. Keller, Benton Baker, K. C. Arness, H. O. Saxvik, Rev. John A. H. Slagge, Miss Hazel Nelson, Miss Midge Runey, Rev. L. R. Johnson and A. F. Bradley final arrangements for the week will be made.

The next Forum of the Association of Commerce will probably be held on the 27 of this month. A special committee consisting of J. L. The county commissioners will probably be invited as guests of honor.

TOKIO SHOWS RELIEF WHEN QUAKES CEASE

Takes Three Days to Cremate Bodies Floating on River

Tokio, Sept. 13.—Relief was on the faces of the people today for they had passed the first night free from earthquakes since the fatal Sept. 1. It is estimated that during the week there were more than 1,000 shocks. 700 of them plain and some severe enough to bring the fear of fresh destruction. The weather remained fine enabling work to be expedited. The situation in Yokohama is appalling. Thousands are camped in the parks with scanty supplies of food and water.

Three days were needed to cremate the bodies found in the river which runs through Tokyo. Hundreds of bodies still are floating in adjacent rivers and bays.

DEATH TOLLS
Tokio, Sept. 13.—Officials estimate places the dead in Yokohama at 23,767 of whom 146 were foreigners including Chinese. Casualties at the Yokosuka naval base totaled 4,331.

REFUGEES REPORT
Shanghai, Sept. 13.—Refugees arriving here say a strict censorship is in force in Japan. Japanese officials, they said, have sealed all ships' radios and have prohibited the sending of even private messages from Tokyo and vicinity.

Other refugees reported that many illiterate Japanese attribute the earthquake and fire to the influence of "foreign devils." Still other Japanese of low grade intelligence, they say, have spread rumors that the earthquake was caused by an explosion of standard oil tanks.

Japanese officials are doing everything possible to prevent circulation of such rumors.

NEED CLOTHING
Washington, Sept. 13.—Japan's dire need of clothing and building material to protect the multitude of earthquake sufferers was recognized yesterday by the American Red Cross which authorized the quick shipment of hundreds of thousands of pieces of underwear and outer clothing as well as large quantities of corrugated iron sheeting. Urgent requests come from the stricken area that the advent of cold weather made immediate action imperative.

Corwin Assures Good Batteries To Their Patrons

Back in the days of '49, many a goldseeker died of thirst on western desert plains, but you don't hear of such things nowadays.

"Yet, we see many cases of death for lack of water," says the Corwin Motor Co., local Willard Service Station operators. "They are battery deaths, however," he adds.

"The one thing most likely to bring a storage battery to an untimely end is thirst. Many a battery is expected to travel indefinitely without water, but none will do it."

"A battery must be kept filled above the tops of the insulators to allow for the evaporation that will take place. Summer heat and long trips will evaporate the water in the battery solution very quickly and that is why so many batteries die of thirst in summer particularly. Charging of the battery by the generator creates heat in itself besides the influence of the weather temperature."

"The simplest and surest means of committing battery murder is to use it without giving it water. Without water the plates become hard and are rapidly overheated by the charging current. This may cause the plates to buckle and completely ruin the battery."

"Filling a battery too full is almost as bad as not filling it enough. If filled above the right point, the acid solution will overflow and eat away the wood case and injure any part of the car with which it comes in contact."

"If the specific gravity of the solution becomes less and less, the car owner may be deceived into believing that the acid has evaporated. What really happens is this: As the battery discharges, the acid in the solution is absorbed, by the plates. If this process continues until the battery is fully discharged, the solution is almost all water. Recharging the battery forces the acid out of the plates into the solution again. No acid, only the water evaporates and all the car owner needs do is see that the battery is supplied with distilled water to replace what is lost by evaporation. Acid should never be added by the car owner."

"If car owners will remember this one point about their batteries, there will be a great deal less mortality among automobile bat-

K. K. K. REPORTED

STARTED IN MEXICO
Mexico City, Sept. 13.—The Ku Klux Klan has appeared in Mexico, but thus far has confined its activities to visits to newspaper offices and to writing communications to the press. The klansmen wear black robes and hoods and are chary with words, emphasizing their arguments with pistol flourishes. Their only entrance into public affairs has been a cleanup campaign conducted at Tachubaya, a suburb.
